Re: #4-36-53-0112

Dear Mr. Gray:

This letter is in response to our phone conversation on Friday, July 15, 2005.

In the inquiry filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission, you're disputing a balance that was transferred to your account. Nicor's records indicate that the owner of Value Car Auto Mart is responsible for the transferred charges.

As previously discussed, Nicor would require proof that you are not responsible for the disputed charges. A legal document proving that you are the new owner of the business, and the date that the business was purchased would be required. You can fax correspondence to my attention at 630-548-3574.

This information has been relayed to the Illinois Commerce Commission, and they are aware that no adjustments will be made until the proper documentation is provided.

Sincerely,

Anthony Waddell
